Social Science Student Symposium
Thursday, May 7, 2015
Sacramento State, University Union

Sponsored by the CSU Social Science Research and Instructional Council (SSRIC)

Registration Deadline: April 8, 2015

Who can participate? All undergraduate and graduate students, from all CSU campuses and community colleges, doing research in any social science field. Individual and group papers are welcome.

What is it? An opportunity to present your research to your peers and compete for a cash award. Presentations will be approximately 15 minutes. There will be three $5,000 awards for best undergraduate paper, best graduate paper, and best use of quantitative data in a paper. Other papers will receive awards of $75-150. Lunch will be provided.

How do I participate? Registration deadline is April 8th, 2015. If you want to compete for one of the cash awards you have to submit a full paper (maximum 20 pages). To present your research but not compete for an award, you just need to submit an abstract.
